

TESTIMONIALS

Fantastic! Your medium of lunch truck advertising possesses a lot of benefits to our advertisers that are not traditionally available. Strategizing with you and your team was effortless and time efficient. Obviously, lunch trucks are a small but intricate element of our campaigns but have a great value for any advertiser seeking to turn every rock in search of customers and brand loyalty.

-Kristen Piontek, Team Coordinator for Sullivan Higdon and Sink

People from other companies try to bootleg our vehicles almost every week. Our firm exclusively contracts with OAS for our non-food sales revenue via advertising and promotions. The applications are professional and their payment practices are better than an ATM."

-Jeff Olsen, 25 year in industrial catering as a driver, truck owner, and commissary operator of 86 trucks in Arizona

"When Scot approached me in 1999 about the idea of placing advertising on my trucks, I said no. He was persistent and eliminated my greatest concern. In the past, damage to trucks was caused by the adhesive and removal of the ads. I personally accepted from local advertisers. Scot Addressed the issue with material testing and arrested my concerns with a vinyl and adhesive solution that prevented the damage. Ten years later my firm has enjoyed his partnership, seeing the growth of his company, and the royalties that are consistent and on time. Thanks Scot."

-Herman Appel, 30 year owner of 80 lunch trucks, commissary operations, and ground in Los Angeles, CA

"OAS is always welcome to place ads on our trucks. We feel special to be apart of something bigger than just serving food and beverages to our loyal patrons. We really enjoy offering the promotions gifts."

-Maria Rodriguez, 20 year truck operator
